Mobile Communications Configurations

G3S2 will configure a new laptop to maximize reasonable security, encryption and back-up/restore options. This includes removing all unnecessary configurations and software often bundled with new machines.

Consulting Service

G3S2 services focus primarily on “acute” or specific single issues. G3S2 may be able provide assistance with larger more systemic issues or projects using our collective broad expertise.

Media Services

Assistance with on-going website work or the production and development of media presentations – including video/DVDs/VCDs. Also includes assistance with media management, graphic design, photography or video acquisition.

Account Setup

G3S2 will set up an individual accounts that may have multiple people associated with it. Each account must maintain funding that will be used as a resource as G3S2 encounters out-of-pocket expenses while providing its support services on behalf of the account.

Non-Greater Good Support Services

Business people who work internationally/cross-culturally encounter many of the same problems as do G3S2’s primary clients. G3S2’s focus on diverse global challenges is attractive to individuals including those who are not designated as “greater good” workers. Individuals not primarily focused on greater good efforts may also access G3S2 services, but will be charged double the published rates. For many business people, finding internationally competent support for situations that go beyond their existing support infrastructure is a good option. Also, paying for this support is also an excellent way to indirectly support greater good efforts around the world as this income stream allows G3S2 to assist more greater good workers.
